Will Windows XP Violate HIPAA after 4/8/14!?

Many small providers are worried about pricey computer & software upgrades and data migration costs if using XP becomes a HIPAA violation on 4/8/14.

Windows announced that it will stop supporting the operating system Windows XP after 4/8/14 (including security patches). While the HIPAA Security Rule does not specifically require particular supported operating systems, “Unsupported and unpatched environments are vulnerable to security risks. This may result in an officially recognized control failure by an internal or external audit body, leading to suspension of certifications, and/or public notification of the organization’s inability to maintain its systems and customer information.” (Microsoft)

"I'VE HEARD THE GOVERNMENT'S GOING TO EXTEND THE ICD-10 DEADLINE"

While most of us would certainly welcome the extra time for preparation and testing, CMS Administrator Marilyn Tavenner made it very clear in her recent keynote speech at HIMSS:

"There are no more delays and the system will go live on October 1st. Let's face it guys, we've delayed this several times and it's time to move on."

CMS will, however, allow some hardship exemptions for Meaningful Use Stage 2: click here for details.
