

PIMSY + SayIt® from nVoq (free webinar)

We're proud and excited to announce our partnership with SayIt from nVoq. SayIt allows clinicians to reduce their documentation time up to 25% with affordable, secure, and reliable speech-to-text capabilities.

SayIt's mental + behavioral health specific templates mean that you don't have to adjust the program to recognize the nuances of our industry: they're already built into the program!

The SayIt solution:

- > works on Mac and PC
- > offers a month-to-month contract
- > costs less than the competition
- > offers a choice of spoken or voiceless shortcuts

Learn more about how PIMSY + SayIt work seamlessly in tandem to provide enterprise-level practice management - affordably:

Honoring Memorial Day

We at PIMSY EHR would like to thank and honor all military personnel - enlisted and veterans - their families, and those who work to support them.

Thank you for your service, dedication, and sacrifice. We respect and honor you, today and every day.

What's With All the Sunflowers?

When we created PIMSY in 2007, all of the other systems on the market were drab, sterile and cold: the opposite of the providers we served.

We originally branded PIMSY with sunflowers to add some lightness and color to the often heavy, intense and dark world in which clinicians work.

10 years later, the sunflowers also reflect our amazement at the growth we've experienced - and at how PIMSY helps our customers grow.

To your success!
