

PIMSY Telehealth Functionality

PIMSY telehealth functionality for mental & behavioral health is provided through our partnership with SecureVideo, including telepsychotherapy and telepsychiatry.

We've offered this fully integrated feature for the past six years, and have recently enhanced it to meet the expanded needs of providers during the current crisis.

For example, in response to the pandemic, payers in North Carolina told clinicians that they had to immediately switch billcodes for telehealth. Other payers want a particular modifier; and some want the provider to differentiate whether the appointment was conducted via phone versus video conference in the session note.

Throughout the nation, new requirements have been put in place in order to conduct mental health treatment remotely. PIMSY's telehealth feature empowers you to make these changes immediately:

PIMSY's telehealth feature enables you to treat your clients remotely, seamlessly integrating the treatment into the session notes & client chart – in a fully HIPAA-compliant format. It's unique flexibility also allows you to make whatever changes are required by payers, ongoing, to maximize reimbursement.

This is just one of many functionality elements that can help support your agency as the current health crisis grinds on. With PIMSY, you can treat your clients virtually and run your organization remotely:

// telehealth

// clinician portal

// patient portal

// messaging

// appointment reminders

// HIPAA-compliant work from home
